

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WALTER ALBELDAÑO JOINS BIOWORKS AS FIELD DEVELOPMENT SPECIALIST

Victor, New York (May 25, 2017) – Walter Albeldaño has been named Field Development Specialist at BioWorks, home to the RootShield®, BotaniGard®, CEASE®, Molt-X®, MilStop®, BotryStop®, NemaShield® and SuffOil-X® brands of biopesticides and Verdanta® and ON-Gard® brands of biofertilizers. In his new position, Mr. Albeldaño will be implementing and managing diverse field research programs for current and developing products in North America.

Mr. Albeldaño has over 10 years of field and research experience, most recently with Pacific Ag Research in California. He previously held positions at the University of South Florida, Valent USA, Valent de Mexico and Texas Tech University. Mr. Albeldaño's primary responsibility at BioWorks will be to expand and manage their field research programs with existing and new customers in both horticulture and specialty agriculture markets.

"Walter is a welcome addition to the BioWorks team," said Peter Epeira, Director of Research and Development. "His experience and commitment to customer relations will make substantial contributions to our ability to support and serve our customers."

Mr. Albeldaño may be reached at 559-545-1101, or by email at walbeldano@bioworksinc.com.
